

Marble Trout... Val di Sole's top catch

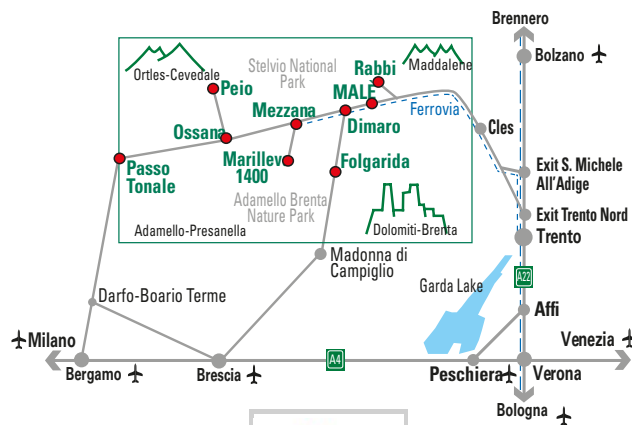

Fishing Competitions

For sports clubs or associations interested in participating in fishing competitions, the Lago dei Caprioli lake in Pellizzano can host up to 80 competitors. Several sections along local streams are also available upon request. The competition areas, even for NO KILL fishing with artificial baits, are homogenous for a length of 4 km.

Flowing waters

The Noce River, together with its tributaries that include the Vermigliana, Rabbies and Meledrio streams, are the main watercourses in Val di Sole, which are constantly repopulated with fry and 6-9 cm young trout that come from the hatchery in Cavizzana. To protect local fish species, each year, the Val di Sole Fishing Association produces 400,000 Marble and Brown Trout wild stock eggs at the hatchery. They are then released and placed in the headwaters and small tributaries of the various streams, guaranteeing their natural development. Some areas are repopulated with adult Brown Trout.

LAKES

The Lago dei Caprioli lake located in the Fazzon area and the Pian Palù lake (both can be easily reached) are also repopulated with adult trout. There are other 10 mountain lakes that can be reached on foot, which are populated by marvellous Arctic Char and Brown Trout. OPEN: May – October

NO-KILL ZONES & RESERVOIRS

4 NO KILL zones with wild trout for artificial fly fishing

NK3 – Torrente Vermigliana (stream) – Fucine

1.3 km of clear water in spring and autumn, slightly cloudy in summer. Water holes between granite boulders and flat sections, host Marble and Brown Trout with a growth of up to 2,5 kg in the wild.

NK2 – Torrente Meledrio (stream) – Dimaro

1 km of clear water all year and a clear river bottom. Brown Trout up to 1,5 kg. In September, as trout move upstream along the Noce River, good sized Marble and Brown Trout can be found here.

NK1 – Torrente Rabbies (stream) – "Le Marinolde" Reservoir – Pracomo – San Bernardo – Reservoir must be booked

Clear waters all year. Water holes and small cascades in a natural alpine setting of rare beauty. The NO KILL zone of San Bernardo has been combined with a NO KILL zone further down the valley and separated. These 2 sections (for a total of 2,5 km) are reserved areas that must be booked for a max number of 4 fishermen per day. In the upper section of San Bernardo there are mainly Brown Trout that can reach a weight of up to 2,5 kg. In the lower section, where fishing was not allowed from 1986 to 2015, there is an increase of Marble Trout of a considerable size and genealogy.

TROPHY ZONES

ZT1 and ZT2

Noce River – Cavizzana – Pellizzano – Cusiano
1.3 km + 1.3 reserved for artificial fly fishing and spin fishing with the possibility to keep 1 trout that is longer than 50 cm. Waters are generally clear and slightly cloudy in spring and in September, cloudy in July-August. High average flow rate, large boulders, and the width of the river make it the perfect place for artificial bait techniques. Marble and Brown Trout can be found here, all sizes.

RT

Torrente Vermigliana (stream) – San Leonardo "Big Fish" zone – Vermiglio
1.2 km with a special permit, with the possibility to keep 2 trout of the correct size. The fishing association guarantees a constant supply of Brown Trout up to 3 kg.
